IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT: To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal laws require all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. What this means to you: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

How We Will Calculate Your Balance: We use a method called "average daily balance" (including new transactions). * An explanation of this method is provided in your account agreement.

Billing Rights: Information on your rights to dispute transactions and how to exercise those rights is provided in your account agreement.

Military Lending Act: Federal law provides important protections to members of the Armed Forces and their dependents relating to extensions of consumer credit. In general, the cost of consumer credit to a member of the Armed Forces and his or her dependent may not exceed an annual percentage rate of 36 percent. This rate must include, as applicable to the credit transaction or account: The costs associated with credit insurance premiums; fees for ancillary products sold in connection with the credit transaction; any application fee charged (other than certain application fees for specified credit transactions or accounts); and any participation fee charged (other than certain participation fees for a credit card account).

Right of Setoff: Lender reserves the right of set off in all my accounts with Lender (whether checking, savings or some other account). This includes any accounts I hold jointly with someone else and all my accounts I may open in the future. However, it does not include IRA or KEOGH accounts or any trust accounts.
